Saying Goodbye, Tiffany goes to College

Tiffany was called into ministry in 2023

After graduating from Bridgeway Academy last month with a 3.8 GPA, Tiffany has continued pressing forward in her studies and is completing her final online class with West Coast this summer. Sensing the Lord's clear leading, she has been studying missions and will be entering Bible College this month as a sophomore, eager to prepare for the ministry God has placed on her heart. We are grateful that Tiffany chose to complete her first year of college from home to save money, and now she is excited to join her classmates on campus. Before stepping into this new season, she was blessed to spend a meaningful week with her sister, JuliAnna, at Bible camp here in California—a sweet time of fellowship and lasting memories.

As Tiffany begins this next chapter, one of her immediate needs is a part-time job to help with her college expenses. We kindly ask for your prayers that the Lord will provide the perfect job where she can meet her financial needs and continue to grow spiritually.

Meanwhile, we are cherishing these final days with her—running errands, completing last-minute preparations, and treasuring every conversation and laugh—knowing that this season of life is about to change.

Amid all the goodbyes we've faced as parents and missionaries, this one has been unlike any other. Dropping off Tyler and Jordan was hard, but parting with Tiffany has reached a deeper place. Only those who raise their children on the mission field, serving side by side through both joys and trials, can fully understand the unique bond that forms. Years of laboring together in ministry create a closeness that words can barely capture. This goodbye is also made harder by distance—we are not just a few hours' drive down the road, but over 3,000 miles away on a Caribbean island. Leaving her in California, far from the familiar rhythms of our life together, has reminded us once again that the Lord requires that daily step of faith. Luke 9:23

At last, it is time for our adventurer to embrace the journey God has prepared for her. Watching her finding new friends, embracing new responsibilities, and preparing for a life of ministry—fills us with gratitude, even as tears flow. Letting go was far more difficult than we imagined, yet the Lord continues to remind us that she is safest in His will. We do not often write about our children, but today our hearts overflow with thankfulness for the privilege of having Tiffany serve with us in the D.R. and Haiti all these years. Every smile, every song, and her servants heart has been an immeasurable blessing to both our family and the ministry the Lord has entrusted to us.

As we return to the D.R. with one less teammate by our side, we lean on the Lord to fill the empty space and trust that the seeds of faith planted in Tiffany's heart will grow into a life wholly devoted to Him. Though our home will feel a little different, our hearts rejoice in seeing her step forward in faith, and we remain humbled and grateful for your prayers as our family serves Him—together, even when oceans apart.
